

Fourth Door Review

Journal of Fourth Door Research

100 in 100/125 in 125/200 in 200 (...this is not a funding campaign)

Become one of the first hundred new subscribers who help the the next Fourth Door Review get published

As one of those who's been interested and supportive of the independent cultural review Fourth Door Review, I am writing to you personally to invite you to take out a subscription for the new Fourth Door Review, no 9 (and two further editions.) If you do this you'll help ensure the future of Fourth Door Review.

You may well know that FDR has always been a 'labour of love' shoestring operation. It has been run with minimal external public and no private funding.

If you, like myself, believe that the overall quality, originality and relevance of FDR makes it important to maintain its unique voice in the current arts, architecture, design and crafts landscape, please help Fourth Door to continue.

I have now readied material both for this and the next edition. With support the next three editions will be financially underwritten.

What is needed is financial support.

As I write the current FDR 9 is in design (this is its cover.) Your support will help launch the new edition.

We're not asking for something for nothing support. We're asking that you'll consider subscribing for the next three editions. We're also aiming to get 125 architectural and 200 institutional subscriptions in 125 and 200 days respectively; hence 100 by 100/125 by 125/200 by 200. Persuading one hundred of you potential individual subscribers to do so, plus 100 architectural and institutional subscriptions will raise over £10 000, enough to publish this edition.

I am about to begin writing individually to around 1000 people, all of whom have shown support to Fourth Door in one way or another. We'll also be writing to 500 architects and institutions respectively. If we get subscriptions from half this number this would enable provide long-term stability for FDR. There are also other ways you can support FDR further. Check out on the website...

To underline this, the campaign appeal is being linked to the re-launch of Fourth Door's web-magazine, Unstructured www.unstructured.co.uk as well as other further strands, Annular www.annular.org.uk and the roots and social active architecture branches in Fourth Door's tree.

Please find subscription offers on the other side of this letter

Thank you for reading this Oliver Lowenstein
